Top five Auckland teachers receive national awards

Five outstanding teachers who have made an impact in their local communities have been honoured with ASG National Excellence in Teaching Awards (NEiTA).

Based in Auckland, they are among 20 regional recipients from around New Zealand to be awarded the prestigious honour, selected from just under 300 nominations.

Celebrating 20 years of rewarding excellent teaching, ASG NEiTA gives parents, grandparents, school councils and board committees the opportunity to formally recognise hard working and innovative teachers who inspire a passion for lifelong learning in young people by accommodating different needs and nurturing their talents.

ASG NEiTA Chief Executive Officer, John Velegrinis says community recognition is very powerful and they should be proud of the impact they're making at the grassroots level and beyond.

"Communities love being engaged in education and in some cases, they can be the richest educational resources. So I congratulate the five Auckland based recipients who are really making a difference in their communities through education. We say that education is one of the most critical investments that parents, families and communities can make, but we need teachers like our ASG NEiTA recipients to drive this education and really invest in nation building through our young people.

We also know from the ASG Parents Report Card that 89 per cent or nine out of 10 New Zealand parents believe their children's teachers are very capable. This support for teachers doesn't surprise us and further validates the value of teachers in our society."

The awards comprise of early childhood, primary and secondary categories.

ASG NEiTA chairman, Allen Blewitt says the awards also highlight the positive relationships which have been built.

"ASG NEiTA is one of the only channels where the community gets to express their gratitude through nominating an inspirational teacher, educator, principal or centre director. We are also celebrating 20 years of ASG NEiTA and these awards go from strength-to-strength because of the influential community-teacher-pupil relationships which can last a lifetime."

In September 2016, ASG NEiTA will announce the national award recipients. Professional development and project grants are available at the national award level.
